

Another Upheaval Among the Employees in the Treasury Department.

WOMEN WEEP AND WRING THEIR HANDS

Men Who Have Grown Gray in the Service Turned Out.

GEORGIANS HAVE VERY FAIR LOOK

None Dismissed, but Several Are Transferred—One Gets a Promotion—One Place Where Merit Counts.

Washington, October 1.—(Special.)—Under the Docket bill there has been a great shaking up in the treasury. It is doubtful if there was ever enacted within the treasury building a scene similar to that which occurred there this morning.

The average treasury clerk is always in his place at 9 o'clock. A great many of them have been there long before that hour this morning and many of them were very anxious faces.

Only forty-two clerks were dropped Saturday, but in the reorganization of the department all the old clerks knew there would be a "gamble" for the new places, and that some ninety-old employees would have to go on the temporary roll.

It is one of the few departments under the government where merit counts and a great majority of the employees have to work hard.

"Where do I stand?" asked an old, white-haired clerk in the appointment clerk's office this morning.

"You are on the temporary roll," was the response.

"What does that mean?"

"There is an appropriation of $30,000 for the payment of the clerks on that roll."

"How long will it last?"

"Until about the end of December."

"Then what becomes of me?"

"I don't know."

The old clerk swallowed something in his throat and walked away. It was an uncommon sight to see two women clerks walking down the corridor in tears, trying to comfort each other, and Mr. Dockery's ears must have burned.

The Georgian in the department were very lucky. Not one of them was dropped, but several were ousted from old places and given new and harder ones.

Eugene P. Pepper was transferred from the office of the first comptroller to the second auditor's division and was removed from the treasury to the old Wyman building. He is placed in charge of the military division. Mr. Forte, of Stewart county, was reduced from a chief's position in the second comptroller's office to a law clerkship in the comptroller's office.

Thomas A. Hodgson, of Athens, was promoted from a $1,000 clerkship in the office of the comptroller to one of $1,500.

The Rev. Chauncey C. Williams, of St. Paul's August, with Mrs. Williams and Master Norton Williams, spent yesterday and today in Washington. Dr. Williams preached yesterday at Epiphany church and gave today to enlightening and discussing politics.

Mr. Charles R. Crisp was in the city today on private business for his father, Speaker Crisp. He left for Georgia tonight to cast his vote for the state ticket.

A PROTEST FROM GERMANY

Washington, October 1.—An international question involving the United States and Germany has been raised by that feature of the new tariff law which insures the most domestic trouble—the sugar schedule. The German government, through its ambassador, Baron von Laurin Jettach, has made a strong protest, claiming that it is against that clause of the act which imposes an additional duty of one-tenth of a cent per pound on sugars imported from those governments which have a treaty of commerce with the United States.

The ambassador himself has just arrived in this city from his summer trip, but the protest was conveyed to the department of state by an official of the embassy acting as charge d'affaires in his absence, and had been the subject of a conference. It is held by the German government that the feature of the new tariff act is more oppressive in its action against the sugar producers of Germany than any other and violates the spirit of the treaty of commerce between the two governments, particularly in view of the concession by which the embargo against American pork for a time enforced by Germany was raised. Germany thinks that her commercial interests in this matter should be upon the same plane as the most favored nation—to use the common term—terms.

However, understand the status of the case; that it is not in the power of the state or treasury department to change the working of the existing law; that it is the prerogative of congress alone by legislation to that step.

The German ambassador said tonight that the protest has been made in a friendly spirit. While the nature of the law to which his government objected operated also against France, Austria and Belgium, it was much more unfavorable to Germany sugar interests, because the export duty paid by Germany was lower than that granted by either of the other countries mentioned, so much lower that German exporters were placed at a decided disadvantage in competing with their neighbors in the markets of America.

With this discrimination removed, he said, the German sugar growers would be able to conduct a profitable business with the United States. The ambassador was very hopeful that legislation would be enacted at the short session of congress to obviate the discrimination against his country.

AN ERROR OF THE PRINTER.

It was that which caused the letters of the President to be omitted.

Washington, October 1.—When Senator Faulkner, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, was shown the article charging the committee with expurgating the letters of President Cleveland from the campaign book, he said:

"Our republican friends think they can make some political capital from the statement that the letters of President Cleveland to Chairman Wilson and Mr. Catchings have been omitted from the campaign book, published by this committee. It is only necessary in order to remove any question of doubt that may result by reason of this political effort of our opponents to state that the omission occurred in but thirty copies of the entire first edition, through an error of the printer in binding the book."

TEXAS IS IN LINE.

The Campaign There Is Being Fought on Silver Lines.

MR. CULBERSON FAVORS 16 TO 1

And Believes That There Should Be Free Coinage at That Ratio.

OPENING SPEECH OF THE CAMPAIGN

In Which He Places Himself Squarely on the Democratic Platform, and Shows What It Really Means.

Galveston, Tex., October 1.—(Special.)—The democratic campaign in Texas is to be fought upon silver lines. In his opening speech at Galveston, Mr. Culbertson, democratic nominee for governor, outlined the issues of the campaign and in doing so put himself squarely on record in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver without discrimination, at the present ratio of 16 to 1.

In the campaign for the nomination it will be remembered there was an effort to make it appear that Mr. Culbertson was not a free coinage man and the administration press all over the country declared the defeat of Judge Reagan to be a defeat of the free coinage idea. The Culbertson man denied this, declaring that their man was as strong a friend of silver as was Judge Reagan, and that his declaration of their part unquestionably had a good deal to do with his nomination.

Texas a Unit for Free Coinage.

The fact is, the democrats of Texas are a unit on this subject. In his opening speech Mr. Culbertson devoted most of his time to the silver issue. He showed how the constitution of the United States had always recognized gold and silver as the metal monies of the union and how Mr. Webster and other great leaders had always held there was no authority to displace either. "Since 1792," said he, "when Mr. Jefferson wrote Mr. Hamilton 'I concur with you in thinking the unit must stand by the side of the dollar,' we have favored the coinage of both metals. Throughout its career its authorized utterances have demanded a currency of gold and silver, and its papers have urged upon congress, substantially as declared in the national platform of 1880 and the platform of 1884 and 1888.

Coming down to the national platform of 1892 he says that is makes the same demand and the declaration upon this subject by the state democratic convention of Texas, with a single exception, has been in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present ratio of 16 to 1. "The exception referred to," said he, "renders the state plank stronger and more explicit, for it demands not only the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver, but the equal coinage of the two metals." "This," says he, "leaves no room to doubt that silver is by law and by the action of the legislature to be placed on the same plane as gold, and that it shall continue to be a standard money, not resting upon other coins, but in itself money."

Referring to the action of the state democratic convention in adopting its platform at Dallas, he says:

"The state platform adopted at Dallas contained no expression of the party as to the ratio of coinage, nor as to the quantity of gold and silver to be coined, except in so far as may be implied in the provision for the protection of the farmers and the maintenance of the parity. It is in these two points that because the convention declined to substitute the minority plank, which provided for the coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, for the majority plank, it thereby declared the unlimited coinage of silver at that ratio."

He quotes the platform as adopted as follows:

"We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and the equal coinage of both metals without discrimination against either metal, and the maintenance of the parity of the coinage of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and unchangeable value, or be adjusted through international agreement, by such means as the majority may deem proper to insure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals and the equal value of every dollar at all times in the markets and in payment of debts."

He says that the matter of the sale of the island and improvement of the harbor of Galveston has been discussed by the club, but no definite decision has been made. The Jekyll Island club is a regularly chartered corporation and its affairs are managed by a board of directors, and as such all the stockholders will have a vote on the question of sale. The matter has not been decided yet, as no vote has been taken.

"It is stated that the majority of the club members are opposed to the sale. Mr. Armour will be here shortly, having engaged accommodations."

The Debt Statement.

Washington, October 1.—The debt statement issued this afternoon shows a net increase in the public debt cash in the treasury during September of $5,512,700. The interest-bearing debt increased $4,183,200, the non-interest-bearing debt increased $1,329,500. The balances of the several classes of debt at the close of business September 29th were: Interest-bearing debt, $35,042,800; non-interest-bearing debt, $1,329,500; total, $36,372,300. The certificates and treasury notes issued by the treasury during the month of September were $2,134,470, a decrease of $2,914,102. The total cash in the treasury was $774,135,928. The gold reserve was $58,575,737. Net cash balance in gold coin and bars of $2,778,807. The total at the close being $123,666,756. Of silver there was a decrease of $3,352,977. Of the surplus there was in national bank deposits $16,956,288, against $17,339,397 at the end of the previous month.

Indictment Against Havemeyer.

Washington, October 1.—The grand jury of the district court of the United States at New York, on October 1, returned an indictment against Henry O. Havemeyer and John E. Seagraves, of the sugar trust, and Allen L. Seymour, of the stock brokerage firm of Seymour & Young, for refusing to answer questions put to them by the senate sugar trust investigating committee. The grand jury also returned an indictment against Mr. McCartney of the firm of Sears & McCartney; this last, however, merely being to prevent a previous report. All of the indictments were returned on demurrers on October 1st.

To Prevent a Lynching.

Princeton, Ky., October 1.—Willie Griffee, a runaway negro, was found in jail here yesterday afternoon for safekeeping and to escape a mob's vengeance. He assaulted Mrs. Davis, white, near LaFayette, Saturday, while the young lady was out riding. The officers had hard work to keep him away from a mob, and there is a possibility that it will get him yet.

Lived Long to Suicide.

Chattanooga, Tenn., October 1.—(Special.)—In a deserted house at Florence, Ala., last night Luke Leander, a tramp eighty years of age, blew his head off with a shotgun.

CLOSED THE SCHOOL.

A German Institution Shut Up and the Students Arrested.

ONE OF THEM SHOT FOR ANARCHY

He Was Not Recognized by His Superior Officer.

FELLOW STUDENTS REFUSE TO TELL

So 183 Were Ordered Under Arrest, and the Emperor Says They Must Be Treated Severely.

Berlin, October 1.—(Special.)—The arrest of 183 non-commissioned officers in the training school in the Invalidenstrasse on Saturday night, are becoming public. Shortly after roll call Saturday the non-commissioned officers were assembled in the hall of the training school, when Major von Stettin, director of the school, surrounded by a cordon, proceeded to administer a severe reprimand to them for the non-compliance of their duties and for the non-compliance of their duties and for the non-compliance of their duties.

While the major was speaking a window in the school building was thrown open and a pupil, whom the officers failed to identify, shouted, "Lab anarchy."

Major von Stettin demanded the name of the culprit, but every one in the yard refused to betray his identity. Subsequently the school was closed and the students were examined, and a quantity of socialist pamphlets and other literature was found.

A committee of inquiry was immediately formed and summoned the chiefs of the political police. The adjutant commander general also communicated at once with the emperor, who is at Rominten, and all the members of the school were ordered to remain in their rooms pending the receipt of orders as to the course to be pursued. A number of the pupils went to bed at the usual hour, but many of them decided to retire until informed of the disposition to be made of them.

Some time later a telegram was received from Emperor William in which he made it decided that summary measures should be adopted. In accordance with these instructions, shortly before midnight a battalion of the guards was marched to the school and surrounded the buildings. Major von Stettin ordered that all the pupils be taken into the schoolyard without weapons. When all were assembled he addressed them, saying:

"From this moment on yourselves prisoners in preventive custody. Those of you who attempt any resistance must be prepared for the most serious consequences."

Then turning to the troops and speaking in a louder tone, he ordered them to shoot down any of the prisoners who attempted to resist. The men silently submitted to their arrest, and at once took their departure for Magdeburg under guard. When they had gone it was found that several pupils had been missing from the roll call, but these were all arrested later.

During the course of Sunday twenty soldiers belonging to different regiments were taken into custody on suspicion of being connected with the pupils, and they, too, were sent to Magdeburg. The first arrest was made on Tuesday last, when a sergeant of the training school was taken into custody. The authorities of the school profess to believe that the prisoners have no connection with any revolutionary party. The remaining 220 pupils, who were not arrested, have been sent back to their respective regiments, and the school has been closed until the arrival of the arrested pupils to be tried.

The Reichsanzeiger says it is likely that the greater number of the non-commissioned officers arrested will not be compromised. The wholesale arrests were made, the official paper says, with a view of discovering the ring leaders and others who have taken part in gross outrages against the laws and against military discipline.

JAPANESE OCCUPY WU-JU.

No Discipline in the Chinese Army. Imperial Council Disorganized.

London, October 1.—A dispatch from Shanghai to the Central News says the Japanese have occupied Wu-Ju without meeting any opposition on the part of the Chinese troops.

Friction between Prince Kung, the emperor's avuncular appointee to the presidency of the Young-Ming, (the foreign board) and Li Hung Chang, the dispatch says is inevitable. The victory is certain to be hampered in his conduct of operations against the Japanese. The imperial council is completely disorganized, and corruption which has prevailed in the commissary department for years, has left the troops with no suitable clothing and a scanty supply of food. Cannon rifles and other armament of war, which from time to time were alleged to have been bought and paid for, cannot now be found and presumably the money reported to have been expended for them was appropriated by the officials into whose hands it was intrusted.

The immense camp between Tien-Tsin and Taku is filled with raw levies of troops, who are without arms and in many cases without sufficient clothing to cover their nakedness. Disorder in the camp is rampant, there being not the slightest degree of discipline. Executions take place daily, the merest infraction of rule or law being punishable by the loss of the offender's head.

European residents of China are taking refuge in the treaty ports under the protection of the war ships of their respective countries. Large numbers of Chinese merchants are also seeking safety in flight. Their goods are being seized and in many cases men of large means have been plundered of every vestige of property they possessed, beaten and otherwise maltreated when they protested. Most of these have also made their way to the treaty ports.

The troops stationed at Canton have been transferred to Formosa.

The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a dispatch from Shanghai stating that the Japanese troops are reported to be rapidly nearing Tientsin.

Prince Kuang's Appointment.

London, October 1.—The Central News correspondent in Shanghai says that the appointment of Prince Kuang, the emperor's son, to the presidency of the foreign board of admiralty, to act as co-director with Li Hung Chang in the conduct of Chinese affairs is looked upon as partaking of the nature of a coup d'etat. No Chinese soldiers are now in Korea, all being concentrated in the vicinity of Moukden and Hung Chang. Chinese transports have gone to Hankow for troops.

It is reported that Taotai Sheng has been found to be implicated in the furnishing of information regarding the Chinese movements to the Japanese authorities.

The St. James Gazette prints a dispatch from Shanghai to a news agency here stating that the return to power of the emperor's uncle, Prince Kung, who has been in disgrace many years, includes the privilege of all times entering the imperial palace.

Sung Kwei, the emperor's father-in-law, has started for Shan-Hai-Kwan, on the gulf of Liao Tung, at the head of 5,000 picked Manchurian soldiers. The return of Shan-Hai-Kwan is of great strategic importance, it being the point at which the high road from the coast to Peking begins. Sung Kwei, who is called a consummate, is making preparations to arrest the landing of a force of the enemy. Preparations for the better defense of Peking are also being energetically pushed. It is expected that the garrison there will be reinforced by 20,000 Manchurians.

Twenty-five thousand troops drafted from a number of the provinces, who have been drilled by foreign officers, are being massed at Tung Chow, a few miles southeast of Peking. These troops are under command of General Liou.

Insulting the Foreigners.

The foreign residents of Peking are subjected to constant insult by the natives and a number of them have been assaulted on the streets. Among the persons who have thus been maltreated are several British subjects, including the interpreter of the British legation and Dr. Dudgeon.

The T. J. Mail to Main street and Chee Foo dispatch, dated today, which says:

"Japanese cruisers are sighted here daily. The nature of the operations being carried on in the harbor is not known. Invasion is hourly expected."

The dispatch also says that it is reported that a rising has occurred in the province of Shan Kung.

TORNADO AT WICHITA.

Several Persons Injured and Considerable Damage to Property.

Wichita, Kan., October 1.—A tornado struck the northern part of this city about 6 o'clock this evening and tore up things in all directions. Several people were injured, but so far as known no fatalities occurred. The wind came from the southeast accompanied by a fierce rain, and dipping down at Wichita and Tenth streets, it took the roof and one side of a street car barn and turned over a few buildings. From the street car barn a large quantity of lumber, where it took the entire roof off of the Missouri Pacific depot and tore up the inside, turned the crossing watchman's house upside down, and overturned a house, turning the occupant, beyond a few bruises.

The next place struck was another street car barn on Fifteenth street and Fifth avenue. The wind came from the southeast, and the debris caught fire, some cars being consumed by the flames. In this vicinity a number of residences were wrecked, one of which was a large house, which was completely demolished by the wind, and the debris caught fire, some cars being consumed by the flames. ## ANOTHER THEATER.

Atlanta Is to Have a New One to Rival the Grand.

THE EDGEWOOD IS TO BE TORN DOWN

Henry Greenwald Is Backing the Enterprise—The House Is to Be Called the New Lyceum.

A deal which will cut a great big figure in the theatrical situation in the south and will mean a great deal in many ways to the people of Atlanta was consummated here last evening.

By it the Edgewood Avenue theater goes out of existence and the New Lyceum takes its place.

And, if the plans of the men back of the enterprise do not miscarry, it means practically another first-class theater for Atlanta.

The man at the head of the new enterprise is one of the best known managers in America. Mr. Henry Greenwald has for years owned the Grand at New Orleans, and, in addition to that, has owned or controlled all the principal houses in Texas. He is also president of the American theatrical exchange, one of the leading booking concerns of the country. In the short, a man of wealth and prominence in the theatrical affairs of the country. It is he who has leased the Edgewood Avenue, and his contract with the owner calls for a complete change, an enlargement of the present structure and its being made thoroughly first-class in every respect. These changes are to be made, and the theater under its new name and management will be ready by the first of May.

How It Was Brought About.

Mr. Henry Greenwald came in from New Orleans yesterday at noon. He had been preceded, by a few hours, by Mr. Will A. McConnell, manager of the American theatrical exchange, of which Mr. Greenwald is president.

At the same time there came to the city a gentleman who formerly lived here, and who is no stranger—Mr. T. H. Bowles, of Milwaukee and New Orleans. Mr. Bowles owns the Edgewood Avenue theater property, and the simultaneous presence here of these three gentlemen was all that was necessary to start the rumor that something was in the air, theatrically. There was talk of an entirely new theater; there was talk of a purchase of the Edgewood, and there was all sorts of talk.

Last night the negotiations came to a head, and a deal for the property was closed. Today Lawyer Charles A. Read will draw up the formal papers.

Mr. McConnell Tells What It Is.

One of the best known men in the theatrical business is Mr. Will McConnell. As manager of a number of big attractions he has gained a well-deserved prominence by his excellent business qualities and his unique advertising methods. When it was announced that he had given up "the road" and had taken up the booking end of the business his friends were incredulous. They wouldn't believe it at first, but he fooled them, and he has made the American theatrical exchange one of the leading institutions of its kind.

"Yes, the deal has been completed," said he at the Aragon last night, "and it means that Atlanta is to be given another splendid theater. We believe that in Atlanta, the best and most progressive city of the south, there is room for two first-class theaters and we propose to make the New Lyceum—that is the name chosen for it—thoroughly first-class in every respect."

"For several weeks," continued Mr. McConnell, "Mr. Greenwald has had his eye on Atlanta. He had no particular desire to come here, but when Mr. DeGue went into the Klaw & Erlanger scheme, turning his bookings over to that firm, he had, in self-defense, to come here. He began negotiations with Mr. Bowles and the result is a ten-year lease of the property. Under the terms of it Mr. Bowles will make changes that will cost him $40,000 or $50,000. Herbert Mathews will be retained as local manager. That, in brief, is the whole story."

Mr. Bowles Confirms It.

Mr. Bowles confirmed this statement of the situation.

"Yes," said he, "the details of the lease have all been arranged and the changes will be made at once. While I have been away from Atlanta for several years, I am still an enthusiastic believer in her present and her future and I know that there is room here for two first-class theaters. There is no man in the country better able to give Atlanta fine attractions than Mr. Greenwald and I am sure the change will be one that will be a benefit to the city."

Mr. Bowles resides in Milwaukee and New Orleans. He is one of the most prominent insurance men in the country, controlling several states as general agent of the Mutual Life of New York.

"It has paid quite a handsome interest on my investment," continued Mr. Bowles, "and there was no reason for the change on that score. But I felt that the growth of Atlanta warranted another first-class house playing the finest attractions, and that, I believe, is Mr. Greenwald's idea."

The Row in the South.

Mr. Greenwald went, at some length, into the reasons that induced him to secure an Atlanta theater.

"Mr. DeGue and I have always been friends, and I had no desire to come into

Atlanta; but when he decided to let Klaw & Erlanger control his bookings, I had, in self-defense, to take this step. You see Klaw & Erlanger lease two theaters in New Orleans. Their plan is to control the rest of the south in the interest of their New Orleans houses as against mine, and there has naturally been war between us. My idea was for Mr. DeGue to remain neutral, but he didn't agree with me, and that's his business, you know, not mine. Well, I set out to make a circuit by which I could have high-class attractions south, and this Atlanta theater gives me the missing link in the chain. We leave Richmond and from there we can jump to Atlanta, leaving Richmond after the performance and getting here at 4 o'clock the next afternoon. From here we can go on to New Orleans. Or we can come from Memphis, Nashville or Louisville, in each of which we have a theater. We will also have Savannah, either by building a new house or securing the old. So, you see," continued Mr. Greenwald, "we are all right, despite their combination. Can we get the attractions? Why, of course, my boy, the very best in the country. You see, I work with Mr. Abbey, Mr. Henderson, of Chicago, and our exchange has the booking of most of the prominent attractions. We will give you the best in the show. It is my idea to make Atlanta more than a one-night town. Take a star like Mansfield. With a change of bill, he could play here a week, couldn't he? And one of Dave Henderson's great extravaganza; is there any doubt of the short, a man of wealth and prominence in the theatrical affairs of the country. It is he who has leased the Edgewood Avenue, and his contract with the owner calls for a complete change, an enlargement of the present structure and its being made thoroughly first-class in every respect. These changes are to be made, and the theater under its new name and management will be ready by the first of May.

Mr. DeGue Is Not Worried.

"There is nothing for me to say," was Mr. DeGue's reply to a reporter who asked him his views on the deal. And beyond that he would say nothing.

But he smiled as if there was nothing in it to make him lose sleep. If he had anything to do with the deal, it was hidden under that smile.

The judge of awards on baking powder at the late Chicago fair, Professor H. W. Wiley, writes that the impurities of other companies that they received the highest award, "that the purity of the Royal is such that no such awards were given."

SENATOR WALSH IN HOUSTON.

He Makes Strong Democratic Arguments and Gets a Fine Reception.

Fort Valley, Ga., October 1.—(Special.)—This has been a great day for democracy and old Houston. Senators Walsh and Gordon and Speaker Crisp all met here this morning at the Harris house, where a few hours were spent in shaking hands with the voters. Senator Gordon and Speaker Crisp went to Butler to give the people of Taylor county a farewell address.

A special train conveyed Senator Walsh with a delegation of Fort Valley people, including Hon. C. G. Gray and Hon. A. S. Giles, to Perry, where a large number of Houston's best people were assembled to greet the new senator. He was introduced by Hon. A. S. Giles in a clear, pointed speech of five minutes. Senator Walsh was greeted with applause and for two hours held his audience spell-bound and thoroughly demonstrated his acquaintance with the political affairs and his familiarity with the political questions of the day. The people were impressed with the fact that he is a working senator and that he has spent the short time he has been in the United States senate in the interest of his constituents and the people of the south.

The inquiries and impositions of the McKinley bill were clearly shown up, while the advantages, benefits and savings to the people by the new democratic tariff measure were made so plain that even the large number of colored people could understand it. The senator discussed the political question and exposed the great crime of the demonetization of silver in 1873 and the action upon the country of the single gold standard in the interest of foreign bondholders, eastern capitalists, syndicates and trusts.

Senator Walsh closed his great speech with strong appeal to the democracy of Houston to vote the straight democratic ticket in Wednesday's gubernatorial election, and to give the entire state ticket the democratic majority that old Houston has ever furnished the party.

Senator Walsh made many friends in Houston today and done great good for the party.

The county executive committee held an enthusiastic meeting and completed all their arrangements for Wednesday's election.

FIRE AT BLAKELY.

A Match in Some Seed Cotton Sets a Ginhouse on Fire.

Blakely, Ga., October 1.—(Special.)—The large steam saw and grist mill and ginney of Captain W. H. Stucky was burned this evening together with several bales of seed cotton. The loss is $1,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire originated from a match which had been thrown away and was extinguished when first discovered had water been easy of access. This fine piece of property was almost the entire possessions of Captain Stucky. Several adjacent buildings, Mr. R. H. Stucky's residence, The Weekly Observer office and two warehouses and stables narrowly escaped burning.

HE IS VINDICATED.

Mr. John Boileuillet, of Bibb County, Is Fully Exonerated.

HOW THE INTERPOLATIONS OCCURRED

The Clerks Began Embodying the Bill Before the Assembly Had Finished Amending It—The Report.

Macon, Ga., October 1.—(Special.)—The committee that has been investigating the charges made against John T. Boileuillet by W. A. Huff, of tampering with the public records by making certain changes in Macon's new charter bill at the last session of the legislature, rendered its report tonight. The committee was in session several days and made a visit to Atlanta to examine the records in the case.

The committee's report completely exonerates Mr. Boileuillet of any tampering with the records or any wrong doing whatsoever in connection with the case. The record is an absolute vindication of him. The committee's report will carry special weight because of the character of the men making it.

One member of the committee was Charles C. Kibbee, ex-state senator and ex-judge of the superior court. Judge Kibbee has had considerable legislative experience and was one of the committee that went to New York to investigate the Seney-Clews book matter during the last session of the legislature. The second member of the committee is Walter B. Hill, a man prominent in the law and of the highest personal character.

The third member is B. L. Willingham, one of Macon's most highly respected citizens and leading business men. These men were selected because of their high standing in the community, because they are not engaged in politics and have no identification with local political factions. They possess the absolute confidence of the community for ability, integrity, truth and fair-mindedness. They were selected by the board of public works to make the investigation.

Mr. Boileuillet demanded an investigation and requested the appointment of a committee of citizens. The examination of witnesses closed today at 1 o'clock. The afternoon Huff and Boileuillet made brief arguments to the committee bearing on the evidence in the case. During the hearing eleven witnesses were introduced for the prosecution. Boileuillet introduced no witnesses for the defense, but rested his case practically on the testimony brought out by the prosecution. Huff conducted the examination of witnesses and Boileuillet conducted the cross-examination. The report of the committee is as follows:

The Committee's Report.

"Macon, Ga., October 1.—The Board of Public Works of the City of Macon, Gentlemen: The committee appointed by your honorable body to investigate the charges brought by Mr. W. A. Huff against Mr. John T. Boileuillet, beg leave to submit the following report: The charges made in detail the ten charges laid before us by Mr. Huff, we report:

1. That so far as they involve moral turpitude, criminality in conduct as a legislator, or the use of force, wrong or tampering with the public records the charges are not sustained.

2. That the amendments offered by Mr. Boileuillet to the bill to amend the charter of the city of Macon, in the opinion of this committee, were proper and were acted upon in conformity with the rules governing legislative action. While it is true, as Mr. Huff charges, that the manner of correcting the engrossed bill by the interlineation of the words whose term of office was three years, as Mr. Boileuillet, was irregular and not in conformity with legislative usage, this correction, however, was made by the clerk of the clerk of the house and in conformity with the practice of the house, and the amendments offered by Mr. Boileuillet to the bill to amend the charter of the city of Macon, in the opinion of this committee, were proper and were acted upon in conformity with the rules governing legislative action.

IT SHUTS OFF THE PARSON'S VIEW

He Built a Stable Too Close to His Neighbor's House, and Now He Is Fenced In.

Troy, Ala., October 1.—(Special.)—Visitors to this pretty little city, who have occasion to pass down Brundage street, one of the most attractive thoroughfares, are struck with curiosity and wonder to see an enormous plank wall, sixteen feet high, dividing the lots on which stand two pretty residences.

On the corner is located the large Methodist church. In the lot adjoining is the pretty parsonage, which the preacher's family occupy. Then comes the high plank wall, and then the home of Mr. J. J. Rainer, a prominent member of the Baptist church.

So often has an explanation of that wall problem been asked by curious strangers and visitors to the city that The Constitution's correspondent feels constrained to tell all he knows about it.

Colonel Wilkerson, an ardent Methodist, once owned the property running from the corner on which the Methodist church is now located to the east end of Mr. Rainer's lot. The colonel owned and occupied Mr. Rainer's present residence. He sold the corner to the church for its house of worship and the lot adjoining for the pastor's parsonage. In 1880, however, the church and the parsonage were both destroyed by fire. The colonel owned and occupied Mr. Rainer's present residence. He sold the corner to the church for its house of worship and the lot adjoining for the pastor's parsonage. In 1880, however, the church and the parsonage were both destroyed by fire.

Now, the Rainer place lies between the city and the church and parsonage, and it is stated that all that the Methodist preacher or any other person can see of the city is the Methodist church on the west and the corner on the top of the highest building in the city, the wall on the east.

However, both sides appear satisfied, and the Trojans have enjoyed the affair immensely.

An Old-Time Georgia Machinist.

Birmingham, Ala., October 1.—(Special.)—The Buffalo Times says:

Mr. G. W. Wagner, a machinist from Macon, was engaged yesterday in preparing the broken down dinky to be shipped to Macon, where it will be thoroughly overhauled, and, perhaps, returned here.

Mr. Wagner is about 35 years old, but is as jolly and active as a sixteen-year-old boy. He has a rather interesting history, having been in the railroad business for twenty years. Mr. Wagner is the first engineer who drove a schedule train from Macon to Cuthbert, and is also the first engineer who drove a similar train across the old wooden railroad bridge to this city. It was in 1889 when he came to Cuthbert, and his cars were all profusely decorated with flowers.

The ladies in great numbers thronged the depot, and were taken by him a distance of five miles over the road on a complimentary pleasure trip. Mr. Wagner stated to the reporter that an elegant champagne supper was tendered him, and that he remained in Cuthbert by the good ladies of that town, and the occasion is kindly remembered as one of the most pleasurable events of his life. Mr. Wagner, but for his gray hair, would be taken ordinarily for a young man, and pushes his favorite pursuit with a degree of vigor and energy that would fill the activity of the average man of today.

Jacksonville, N. C., October 1.—(Special.)—Jacksonville has secured the location of what will be one of the largest cotton seed oil mills in this section.

The machinery to be used is of the very best and the latest design.

The mill will be put in operation just as soon as possible, and farmers can find sale here for their cotton seed.

This mill will employ about twenty-five hands, and will be a valuable addition to Jacksonville.

The mill will be operated under the corporate name of the Jacksonville Oil Mill Company, and will be offered as follows: President and general manager, V. H. Marshall; secretary and treasurer, George P. Roper; directors, Charles E. Pearson, of Ohio; R. Rowan, Judge E. F. Crook, S. D. Brothers, V. H. Marshall, George P. Roper.

Hypochondriacal, despondent, nervous, "tired out" men—those who suffer from backache, weariness, loss of energy, impaired memory, dizziness, melancholy and discouragement, the result of exhausting diseases, or drains upon the system, excesses, or abuses, bad habits, or early vices, are treated through correspondence at their homes, with uniform success, by the Specialists of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. A book of 136 large pages, devoted to the consideration of the maladies above hinted at, may be had, mailed securely, by sending to cents in one-cent stamps (for postage on book), to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, at the above mentioned Hotel. For more than a quarter of a century, physicians connected with this widely celebrated Institution, have made the treatment of the delicate diseases above referred to, their sole study and practice. Thousands, have consulted them. This vast experience has naturally resulted in improved methods and means of cure.

Death Caused by a Tumor.

(Chattanooga, Tenn., October 1.—Special.) A young man named Joe E. Auger, employed as an operator on the Chattanooga and Southern railroad, died in great agony here last night from a fearful tumor on his back. He had been suffering with trouble in the head for years, but thought it nothing more than a cold. Last May, however, a small tumor appeared on his forehead, but soon grew very large. He went to Atlanta and had it removed and came home. In a few weeks another appeared on the other side of his face. He again went to Atlanta but nothing could be done for it, and it continued to grow with astonishing rapidity. Sunday afternoon both eyes burst from their sockets, and last night he died in terrible agony.

A QUARTET OF RIVES.

October, November, December and January
Cotton Drops Into the Fire Column.

THE DECLINE CAUSED BY DISGUST

The Bears Had Control of the Stock Market Yesterday. The Windy Supply Causes Weakness in Wheat.

On last Saturday October and November deliveries sold below 6c on the New York cotton exchange. The same months last year sold at 12 and 13 cents respectively, the first selling as low as 5.5c and the latter at 5.8c.

It was thought by some in the cotton trade that Saturday's figures were sufficiently low to warrant a reaction, or if not a reaction a steady tone, and perhaps cause an inclination on the part of outsiders to enter the market and purchase for investment.

On this side of the water the people who generally purchase for investment did not appear at the cotton exchange. In Liverpool the sales of cotton on the spot were 15,000 bales at a reduction of 3-3/4c. During all of last week sales there were from 10,000 to 14,000 bales.

The arrival market in Liverpool opened yesterday with a fair demand but at a decline of 3-64c. The closing was steady at a recovery of about 1/4c; point, tone barely steady.

The New York market for cotton futures opened an hour earlier yesterday morning, which gave the bears a chance to get in which to add two more months to the 6c column, and at the close October and November were not as lonesome as at the close on Saturday.

The market opened at a decline of 2 1/2 points, after which there was a feeble rally of some 4 1/2 points. December selling as high as 6.02 and January at 6.07. But that was early in the session and shortly after 12 o'clock prices began to sag. December broke rapidly to 5.90 and January to 5.95. October, November and December closed at about the lowest of the day and all well below 6c.

Spot cotton in New York was marked down 1-1/2c yesterday, making middling 5 1/2c with the tone quiet; sales 2,215. On this day last year middling was quoted in New York at 8 1/2c.

The sales of spot cotton at the United States ports yesterday footed up at a total of 9,381 bales at a decline of 1/4c at Galveston, Norfolk, Savannah and Baltimore and 1-1/2c at New Orleans and Charleston.

The interior spot markets were also weaker and declined from 1-1/2c to 1/4c.

Middling in Atlanta was quoted in Atlanta yesterday at 5 1/2c, against 7 1/2c on the same day last year.

THE STOCK MARKET.

The Active Stocks Weak and Lower.

Sugar Led the Decline.

NEW YORK, October 1.—The bears had control of the market for stocks today, and they were not in taking advantage of the situation. They paid special attention to American Sugar, Western Union, Burlington and Quincy and St. Paul, and made quite an impression on prices. Sugar declined from 9 1/2c to 8 1/2c, Western Union from 8 1/2c to 8c, Burlington and Quincy from 7 1/2c to 7c, and St. Paul from 6 1/2c to 6c. They succeeded in forcing out long stock, quite a number of stop orders having been placed on the way down. No new arguments were advanced to account for the shrinkage in prices in the railway list, the bears being content to point to the decline in grain and say a valid reason for the further liquidations in the share market. As for Sugar, the stock certainly lacked inside support, and this, in addition to the recent pessimistic utterances of insiders, is sufficient to account for its weakness. The indictment of Havemeyer and Scarsley certainly was not reassuring to the few remaining bulls who carry the stuff on margin. Chicago Gas was strong, at one time rising 3/4c to 7 1/2c, on reports that the dividend would be declared some time during the day. The calling in of stock accelerated the reaction, and the market declined matter after a good deal of telegraphing to and from Chicago, it was finally settled by statements that the dividend money had been deposited with the proper authorities and that the stockholders would receive the regular 1 1/2c per cent in cash on October 22d. In the afternoon Atchafalpa declined weakly and fell to 70 points, but the report of Expert Little, now about due, would be very unfavorable. Distillers touched 7 1/2, the lowest point ever made on the revival of the market in grain, and company was in the market for a big loan. It was not stated for what purpose the insiders wanted the funds. The general opinion is that the company is in a bad way, and that the company must be reorganized. This, of course, means an assessment. In the last hour Western Union, Sugar, Louisville and Nashville, Chicago Gas, Burlington and Quincy, Tobacco, Lead and Jersey Central were heavy and lower. The last named stock dropped 3/4c to 108, notwithstanding the declaration of the dividend of 1 1/2c per cent. The market closed weak and 1 1/4c to 2 1/2c per cent lower on the day. Sugar scored the greatest loss. Total sales were 200,000 shares.

The Bond Market was Weak.

Treasury bonds: 101, 97 1/4, 94, 90; currency, 96 1/4, 94, 90.

Money on call easy at 1 per cent, last loan at 1, closing off at 1; prime mercantile paper, 4 1/2c per cent.

Bull silver, 63 1/2.

Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 48 1/2c to 48 3/4c for 60 days, and 48 1/2c to 48 3/4c for demand; posted rates, 48 1/2c to 48 3/4c; commercial bills, 48 1/2c to 48 3/4c.

Government bonds, firm.

State bonds, dull.

Railroad bonds, weak.

Silver at the board, 63 1/2.

TOM WATSON SPEAKS

The Willy Populist, Colonel Rallying His Followers for the Fight.

THEY ARE IN THE LAST DITCH

The Speaking Was All Done by Mr. Watson—He Defended Populism, and, as Usual, Attacked Democracy.

Hon. Thomas E. Watson spoke at De-Clive's opera house last night to a crowded house, and for nearly three hours made vigorous attacks upon what the democratic party had both done and not done. There was an audience of perhaps 1,800 people. Colonel J. N. Bateman introduced the speaker.

Mr. Watson's speech was one characteristic of him, and his style, as usual, was exceedingly vigorous. He spent no small amount of the three hours expounding what was in the populist platform and what it meant. He compared the state platform of the populists to that of the democrats, and the national platform of the two parties in the same manner. He rallied at the democratic party about the tariff and silver questions and stood in the light as one who was willing to messiah one party and instruct another.

Mr. Watson began speaking early, as early as 7:30 o'clock, and from the beginning had a large audience. After leading up to the issues of the day, he took up various charges that he claimed had been made by democrats. He said that the democrats had charged the populists with indulging in vagaries and trying to spend all the money in the treasury. This he denied. "The only thing to do, the proper thing to do," said Mr. Watson, "is to judge the parties by their platform and not by individual vagaries. I hold the democratic party responsible for the acts of its president, its house and its senate—their official acts only. I don't believe a good man will save a bad platform."

At this point Mr. Watson referred to the letter of Mr. John Temple Graves and gave it plentiful praise, declaring that he believed it came from the heart and was a direct indication to all true men as to how they should vote. He read extracts from Mr. Graves' card, also, and commented upon it.

Takes Up the Platform. Mr. Watson then began his task of defending the populist platform and of placing his construction upon its various and numerous planks. He started by saying that it declared out and out against all lawlessness, particularly such offenses as lynchings, whitecapping and kidnapping.

"Mr. Clay," said he, "has sent out a card giving a republican in a speech in a republican convention, declaring that the populists were not outspoken for the upholding of the law."

Free passes then occupied Mr. Watson's attention. He declared that they were wrong; that there should be no free passes and that all alike should pay, since the poor man was made to pay for himself and the possessor. He declared that the populists were not outspoken for the upholding of the law."

ISRAEL BLESSED.

Rabbi Reich Denies That a Curse Is Upon the Nation.

SERMON AT THE SYNAGOGUE YESTERDAY

He Says the Jews Were Scattered in the Days of Jeremiah—The Jewish New Year Is Celebrated.

At the Jewish synagogue yesterday morning Rabbi Reich began the New Year of the Hebrew calendar by refuting, in a mild though effective manner, the charge that Israel was scattered by reason of her rejection of the Savior and that in consequence of this fact, the curse of God was upon the nation.

A large congregation was present, including a number of gentiles, who had caught the rumor that Rabbi Reich was going to discuss the charge of the Christian world with reference to the Jews' dispersion.

The following is a full synopsis of the discourse: At this season of the year, in every synagogue where Israelites are congregated to observe this solemn feast, that portion of the Torah is read in which God promised Abraham that "in his seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed"—Genesis xxi, 12-13.

This divine promise we find repeated and strengthened in holy writ. When Balak, the king of Moab, became afraid of the power of Israel when passing his country towards the promised land, he sent for the heathen prophet Balaam to come and curse the Hebrews. But to the king's great chagrin and disappointment, parties by their platform and not by individual vagaries. I hold the democratic party responsible for the acts of its president, its house and its senate—their official acts only. I don't believe a good man will save a bad platform."

At this point Mr. Watson referred to the letter of Mr. John Temple Graves and gave it plentiful praise, declaring that he believed it came from the heart and was a direct indication to all true men as to how they should vote. He read extracts from Mr. Graves' card, also, and commented upon it.

Jeremiah (1: 17) and he lived 65 years before the birth of Jesus. History also teaches us that long before the advent of the Nazarene the Jews had voluntarily dispersed themselves almost all over the known earth in Media, Persia, Syria, Babylonia, Lybia, Greece, Rome, Spain, along the Rhine, and where not.

The fact is, that a great many Jews who lived at a distance from Palestine never heard of such a personage as Jesus born in Nazareth or Bethlehem. Still the very Jews who had left Asia Minor before his advent were accused several centuries later of having been accomplices in the murder of their Son of God, and were tortured, robbed and murdered.

HEARTILY ENDORSED.

The United States Grand Jurors Approve the Reformatory,
AND DISCUSS THE FEDERAL PRISON

An Effort to Locate It in the Northern District—The Organization of the Jury.

Two important resolutions were adopted by the United States grand jury yesterday morning.

The first was a resolution urging the establishment of a reformatory prison.

And the second called for the appointment of a special committee to represent the views of the grand jury in regard to the establishment of a United States prison in Georgia.

During the morning session, which lasted from 10 to 1 o'clock, the jury developed a remarkable aptitude for work and a large amount of business was transacted.

The jury will be in session every day this week,
except Wednesday, and the criminal affairs of the district will be thoroughly investigated.

Organization of the Jury.
The grand jury met promptly at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. An organization was perfected by the election of Mr. M. M.
Welch as foreman and Mr. P. J. Moran as secretary.

The following is the full membership of the body:

M. M. Welch, foreman; James W. Whitmore, Martin Berkele, John D. Dameron,
James F. Coulter, L. J. Price, James Tate,
William H. Bell, Thomas F. Hudgins, W. L.
Grubb, John W. Baum, Benjamin R. Mont-castle, William J. Lumpkin, W. L. Hubbard, Jr., Adolphus G. Ballard, John Jones, James
G. Russell, Henry C. Thurmond, Isaac D.
Simpkins, Paschal J. Moran, secretary;

Robert M. Sanger and John H. Wingate.
The jury is made up of the strongest men in the district and is an able, intelligent, conscientious and thorough working body.

Every diversity of occupation is represented and as an evidence of the grand jury's capacity for work as many as eighteen true bills were returned yesterday afternoon, in addition to a number of other important matters which came up before the jury for investigation.

The Reformatory Endorsed.
The action of the grand jury in expressing its unqualified approval of the proposed school of reformation for juvenile offenders will be read with interest by the many friends of this important movement, which is rapidly taking the shape of an urgent and imperative demand for such an institution.

The following is the language of the resolution:

"Whereas the grand jury of the United States circuit court for the Northern district of Georgia deems the establishment of a reformatory for juvenile offenders brought before the courts of the circuit emphatically necessary.

"Resolved, That the grand jury takes this method of adding weight to the movement now on foot, looking to the establishment of such a reformatory, and sincerely hopes that the spectacle of minors in chains will soon disappear from the state."

These resolutions were passed by a full vote of the jury.

For the Federal Prison.
The next important measure adopted by the grand jury was the passage of a resolution in regard to the location of a government prison in Georgia.

A bill has already passed the two houses of congress providing for the erection of a certain number of additional prisons throughout the country. The nearest federal prison at this time is the one at Columbus, O., and to this point nearly all the prisoners who are convicted of felonies in the Northern district of Georgia are resented for imprisonment. The distance is such as to make the expense of carrying prisoners to and from the prison at Columbus very expensive to the government, and it frequently happens, on account of the difference of climate and latitude, that great suffering is occasioned to the prisoners and many die from exposure to the rigorous climate of the north.

The following is the resolution in regard to the government prison:

"Resolved, That a special committee of three members of this grand jury be appointed by the court to present the views of this body urging the establishment of a United States prison in Georgia; that said committee shall lay the views of the grand jury before the court, and that the congressional delegation from this state, and urge upon them the necessity for such a prison."

If the prison is located in the Northern district of Georgia it will bring to this section of the state a large appropriation between $500,000 and $800,000. It will furnish employment to a large number of officers and will be an important acquisition in many respects.

There will be no difficulty in the way of getting the prison, if prompt action is taken. The appropriation has already been authorized by the government and the only thing which remains is the selection of a site. The special advantages offered by the Northern district of Georgia, being the commercial as well as the approximate geographical center of the southern states, and the fact that Georgia has now a representative in the president's cabinet, in addition to a strong and influential delegation in congress, make it well nigh certain that Atlanta, if she only puts forth the necessary effort, can secure the United States
prison.

The following committee was appointed to represent the views of the grand jury and to put themselves in touch with the congressional delegation in congress, Messrs. P. J. Moran, J. W. Baum and W. H. Bell.

A large number of cases have been prepared by the district attorney for presentment to the grand jury. Nearly four hundred of these are now on hand, in addition to those which will mature in the next few weeks before the adjournment of the body.

Monday. Adjourned to this morning at 9 o'clock.

THE FEDERAL COURT.

A Moonshiner Acquitted—Eight Russians Made Citizens.

The trial of the two Ballows, father and son, charged with a violation of the United States pension laws, was to have been heard in the federal court, before Judge Newman, yesterday morning, but on account of a motion from the attorneys representing the defendants the trial was postponed until the fourth Monday of the present month.

Instead of the pension case, therefore, a number of moonshiners were tried.

Among this number, Jeff Brown, charged with illicit distilling, was acquitted.
W. B. Moore and George Parker entered each a plea of guilty.

Judge Newman's Charge.
The full term of the United States court convened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.
In his charge to the jury Judge Newman called attention to the frequent violations of the law in regard to counterfeiting, illicit distilling, pension frauds and postoffice irregularities. He was clear and explicit in his language and no doubt was left in the minds of the jury as to the obligations imposed upon them by the law and the court.

It was one of the ablest charges to the jury that has ever been made on the bench in the northern district of Georgia, and such was the consensus of opinion among those who were present during the morning session.

The venerable Judge Erskine, who presided with such ability and grace for a number of years on the federal bench, was present in the courtroom for a while yesterday morning and sat with Judge Newman.

A number of motions were heard by Judge
Newman during the afternoon.

Eight Russians Naturalized.
The following Russian Jews were naturalized yesterday afternoon:

Richard Reimnitz, L. Stoenaker, Harris Wienisky, J. Hirsowitz, Mike Sherman, To-biass Borochol, M. M. Galowitz and Morris Frolich.

They will be qualified to vote in the election tomorrow.

Seventeen Cases Transferred.
The suit of Mrs. Cora N. McAfee, administratrix, vs. the Provident Fund Society, of New York, was transferred from the supreme court of Spalding county to the circuit court of the United States yesterday morning. The suit is on a $5,000 insurance policy.

The suit of Maier & Berkele against R.
G. Dun & Co. for $4,000 damages was also transferred.

The suit of Nioey Green against the Southern Railway Company for $15,000 was likewise transferred to the circuit court.

An original suit was filed in the clerk's office by Isa Hill against the Atlanta Traction Company for $1,000.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest
the value to health or the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, leadaches and fevers,
and permanently curing constipation.

It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and, being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

WORK WILL GO ON.

Golden's Restraining Order Was Dissolved by Judge Lumpkin.

SUIT AGAINST A GUANO COMPANY

Only One Case Tried in Judge Westmoreland's Court Yesterday—The City Court Was Short on Business.

Judge Lumpkin's branch of the superior court was in session yesterday and disposed of a good lot of business. A suit of interest was the petition for an injunction filed by C. L. Golden against J. B. Thompson and J. L. Maddox. Judge Lumpkin, after hearing all the facts in the case, dissolved the temporary restraining order.

It seems that Messrs. Thompson and Maddox are building a large stable on Marietta street, and this property of Mr. Golden's is just where the house on it will be surrounded on all sides except the front by the stable.

Mr. Thompson is building handsome new stables on Marietta street, Mr. Maddox being the contractor. Golden simply occupied as a tenant a small house in which he was conducting his business. As a tenant the law required sixty days' notice for removal and as his time was not up he did not move. In the meantime the walls of various old buildings were being torn down to make room for the new building. While this was in progress a portion of the front wall caved in and fell on Golden's shop. He at once secured a temporary restraining order and the case was set for a hearing Saturday, but was not reached until today. The defendants claim that they had offered to give Golden another place to move, or build him a place further up the street.

Last night work was going on at the place and the house occupied by Golden will be torn down.

In the City Courts.

Both branches of the city court did but little business yesterday and the civil branch will probably be occupied all the week with a damage suit.

Early in the day the criminal branch, Judge Westmoreland presiding, broke down for the lack of ready cases. In fact, only one case was disposed of. In Judge Van Epps's court the suit of Decatur M. Wilson against the Atlanta Guano Company was taken up and all the other cases for the week were dropped, as it will occupy a number of days to dispose of this one.

The suit is for damages on account of the proximity of the guano manufactory to certain of Mr. Wilson's property, and he is prone to regard it in the light of a nuisance. There will be a number of witnesses examined and this suit, if the plaintiff is successful, may be the test case of the city court for a number of years. The case in Judge Westmoreland's court was that of Will Lowe, colored, who was charged with larceny from the house. He was sent to the chain-gang for twelve months.

Courthouse Callings.

Lula M. McBride was granted a total divorce yesterday from her husband, K. F. McBride. They were married in 1877 and lived together only two years. She was granted the right to marry again.

The suit of Jacob McCabber against the city for $300 damages was taken up in Judge Lumpkin's court yesterday and disposed of. The jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff to the amount of $300.

Atlanta Collars a Convention.

The National Laundrymen's Association will meet here next year. And now it's the laundrymen's convention.

Atlanta has captured all sorts of conventions, and every kind of organization is constantly coming here for its annual gatherings, but the first laundrymen's convention has just been booked. Atlanta gets it next year.

A most enthusiastic convention of the Laundrymen's National Association has just adjourned at Rochester, N. Y. Lots of laundrymen were present, and when the important matter of selecting a meeting place for 1896 the delegates had no hesitancy in selecting this city. Several hundred strong the laundrymen will be here during the exposition next year.

Atlanta will treat them white and clean; there will be nothing stiff about the welcome they will receive.

No up-to-date housekeeper can afford to use any other baking powder than Dr. Price's.

City Comptroller Goldsmith.

A person signing himself "One Who Knows," says Messrs. Holliday and Harde-man "will not make an error that will cause the city to lose interest on $100,000 for six months, as Mr. Goldsmith did." We were of the finance committee of the city council in 1892 and exonerate Mr. Goldsmith from the charge made.

Since not a few of my patrons are at a loss where to look for me for professional services, the following will inform them how the change came about, and by calling at my office, near the junction of Ridge and Capital avenues, I shall be pleased to serve them promptly as in the past. All old bills to be settled at once. Respectfully, E. J. MORT, M. D.

Atlanta, Ga., September 26, 1894.

Dear Dr. Mowry: I have the pleasure of forwarding you the following resolutions, unanimously passed by the board of trustees of Clark university, at its annual meeting, May 15, 1894:

"Whereas, We learn that it is the intention of Dr. David Mowry to retire from our service as physician and medical instructor in the nurse training department, therefore:

"Resolved, 1. That we express our regret at the withdrawal of such an able officer, who has so faithfully, efficiently and successfully served us through the long term of nine years.

"Resolved 2. That as a board of trustees we commend him to the regard of the public and of the citizens of Atlanta, as a Christian gentleman well worthy of their confidence."

"BISHOP L. W. JOYCE, President of the Board.

Be sure you make no mistake! Listen to a few direct words about a matter which concerns you much. You need Clothes. We have them—Suits, Trousers, Overcoats—in all sizes, for Men and Boys. But they must wear well! Of course. If ours didn't the makers wouldn't have acquired reputations from ocean to ocean. They are produced from the best wool, woven by the leading mill men of Europe and America. What as to style and fit? We carry no old stock. Every Garment is made from the latest patterns, fashioned by the best cutters, who know every line and curve of the human male figure. Now as to the prices. Here the argument ceases. They are absolutely the lowest. You can don fine garbs in exchange for $10, $12.50, $13.50, $15—think of it ye hesitating buyers.
